

POSTCARDS OF HONOUR

From

First name: _____

Age: _____

Made by Australian students in honour of your service.

Activity

We are going to write and decorate a postcard for a veteran.

For many years, postcards and letters were the only way for service people to contact their families.

To get started, think about what you've learned about ANZAC Day. What does it mean to you? Maybe it's a symbol, story or a feeling.

Do you have a family member who served, or is serving, in the Australian Defence Force? What would you say to someone who has served?

Step 1. Practise your message below.
Step 2. Flip over to practise decorating.

Did you know?

On ANZAC Day, many people pin rosemary to their clothes. They do this to remember those who lost their lives in war.

POSTCARDS OF HONOUR

25 April 1915 was when Australian and New Zealand soldiers (ANZACs) fought their first major battle of World War I (WWI).

Since then, many veterans have served, fought or died to keep Australia, New Zealand and other countries safe.

Every year on ANZAC Day (25 April), it's traditional to honour our veterans. Today we will do this with postcards.

ANZAC Day facts

'ANZAC' stands for Australian and New Zealand Army Corps

A veteran is someone who has served in the Defence Force (the Army, Navy or Air Force)
